Understanding the needs

Understanding and responding to the specific needs of people with disabilities

- Free access to holidays like everyone else and alongside everyone else
- Choosing your holiday : on your own, with your family or with friends
- Improve one's mind
- Find entertainment

Crucial aspect of integration

The creation of the Label Tourisme & Handicap was the underlying factor in encouraging social integration for people with disabilities with regard to welcome and accessibility, a source of personal development for both them and their loved ones wanting to live an independent life.

An innovative, trail-blazing choice

The Label Tourisme & Handicap is a national mark, owned by the French State* and created in 2001 by the Ministère chargé du Tourisme (Tourism Ministry). It has been further developed by the Association Tourisme & Handicaps (cf sheet page 7)

The originality of the concept comes from the fact that, for the first time, it takes into consideration the 4 different categories of major disability : hearing, mental, motor and visual, subsequently reflected in the 2005 Equal Opportunities Law.

THE MARK AND THE LAW OF 11 FEBRUARY 2005

A common aim : increase the level of accessibility to organisations and/or facilities

Two different approaches :

The law : an approach thought of as an obligation

The mark : a voluntary approach

The mark incorporates those main conditions relating to the built environment which arise from the law of 11 February 2005 for Equal Opportunities, the participation and civil rights of people with disabilities.

It suggests a best offer when it comes to welcome and to the provision of services available.

Based on the evaluations carried out on-site, the process of working towards and being awarded the mark forces tourism professionals to consider their legal obligations with regard to the 2005 law.

*Registered with INPI on 02/12/2003

A pledge: reliability

Avoiding disappointment

The mark's aim is to provide reliable, consistent and objective information about accessibility to sites and facilities at holiday/leisure destinations for the 4 main categories of disability.

HEARING – MENTAL – MOTOR - VISUAL

By favouring an adapted range of tourist products, assimilated as part of what is generally on offer, there has been a growth in the number of tourism products and services that are genuinely available to everyone and which offer a maximum level of independence for all.

Like every quality mark, the mark ensures the use of services and facilities that have been evaluated according to detailed national criteria, themselves the fruit of collaboration between several different agencies: the Ministère chargé du Tourisme (Tourism Ministry), industry professionals, regional organisations and associations that represent the interests of people with disabilities.

Rigorous specifications

These are based on four main themes :

Provision of welcome and services

Access to the built environment

Features of accommodation and catering

Specific features according to the establishment's main business

The criteria that make up the specifications are not aimed at highlighting perfection but rather to identify those facilities where tourists with disabilities can enjoy the highest level of autonomy when experiencing the services available.

The specifications and specific evaluation grids are created for different types of organisation, giving details of all the accessibility, welcome and service criteria, some of them essential and obligatory and others advisory or recommended, within the structure of a qualitative approach.

As a result of evolving regulatory obligations, these specifications and evaluation grids are updated on a regular basis to cover the addition of new services.

300 accessibility criteria

There are 300 accessibility criteria that make up the specifications used in the services/disabilities comparison process.

Their purpose is to judge whether the facilities available for visitors with disabilities give them the best level of independence possible, according to each category of disability :

HEARING – MENTAL – MOTOR - VISUAL

The Label Tourisme & Handicap is awarded based on a minimum of two categories of disability for a period of five years, which can be renewed following a check that the criteria of welcome and accessibility have been maintained.

The awarding of the Label Tourisme & Handicap can evolve over those five years when other disabilities are taken into account and validated within the structure of criteria defined in the specifications.

The aim is to reach accreditation for each organisation/facility within the four categories of disability.

The four categories of disability in constant progression

Another advance is the number of accreditations for all four disabilities : hearing, mental, motor, visual. In 2002: 6% of accredited organisations/facilities were awarded the mark for all four disabilities. In 2014, that total is 34%.

ACCREDITED SERVICES

The variety and type of accredited services are essential factors in the meeting of expectations of the specific target audiences.

Accommodation : hotels, holiday villages, bed and breakfasts, youth hostels, out of the ordinary accommodation.

Food : restaurants, bars, brasseries, farmhouse inns

Tourist sites : monuments, museums, exhibition rooms, châteaux, sites of outstanding interest, gardens

Leisure sites : theme parks, theatres, beaches, leisure centres, fishing facilities, hiking trails, water activities (rowing, canoeing, sailing), equestrian centres, wellbeing centres

This wide range of facilities gives the Label Tourisme & Handicap the necessary status that enables its target audiences to recognise the mark's utility and make use of it.

5291 accredited sites*

The statistics concerning the accredited organisations/facilities and their different components are always evolving. On average there are 100 organisations/facilities per month put forward for accreditation or for renewal of accreditation.

12 years to reach the 5000+ mark...

When the initiative started, in 2001-2002, there were 102 sites working towards an accreditation that was still in its developmental stage. These were the first pioneers of an amazing progression which currently stands at 5291 accredited sites.

Some cynical individuals note that this is a modest number in relation to France's tourism industry, the world's "number one" holiday destination !

Far from doing the mark a disservice, they are in fact its best ambassadors, encouraging the tourism industry in general to follow suit towards qualification and the pledge to provide a properly adapted welcome.

Commercial accommodation providers are front runners

Within the category of all accommodation providers, there is a total of 3077 accredited establishments, with self-catering properties at the top of this category (1755 properties).

Bed and breakfasts are also advancing strongly, with 430 properties accredited, and hotels (543) and restaurants (390).

Collective tourism also stands out with 150 accredited facilities: holiday centres and villages.

Heritage sector and Tourist Offices, symbols of an open welcome policy

Cultural sites : museums, eco-museums, craft centres, châteaux, outstanding sites of interest, have joined forces and boast over 704 T&H accredited establishments.

A study undertaken in 2009 showed that heritage establishments displayed the strongest interaction between the Label Tourisme & Handicap and clientele with disabilities.

Similarly, those Label Tourisme & Handicap accredited information providers, with Tourist Offices at the top of the list (507), feel the impact of their established qualification across the whole of their clientele.

With 521 accredited sites, outdoor, leisure and wellbeing activities are open to all – aiming to satisfy the need for self-discovery or often for people to push personal boundaries.

The dynamics of a network

120 referents and correspondents in every mainland and overseas department

Since its creation in 2001, a network has been set up of referents and correspondents that are active in regional and departmental tourism organisations -- Comités Départementaux du Tourisme, Agences de développement Touristique, Maisons Départementales du Tourisme - and Associations representing the interests of people with disabilities.

A widespread network

The network currently has 120 Tourisme & Handicap accredited referents in the mainland and overseas departments.

Close to the ground and to players in the industry, their role is to canvass and register the various organisations/facilities, to heighten awareness of the initiative with service providers and owners of tourism facilities, to help them through the process of making their site accessible or to evaluate the provision already made.

Emergence of new initiatives

We have already touched on the evolution of the Tourisme & Handicap accreditation specifications. (cf. sheet "A pledge : reliability") and the development of new criteria that have arisen from that.

The referents and correspondents play a major role in the emergence of new products and services.

They canvass the characteristic products within their own geographical areas and develop partnerships with all of the organisations concerned : service providers, associations representing the interests of people with disabilities, experts, projects dealing with the accreditation of new activities that will be presented for national validation.

For example : Rhône-Alpes and water-based activities, the Auvergne and wellbeing, the regions of Centre, Lorraine, Poitou-Charentes for non-classic accommodation, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur and Auvergne for equestrian tourism, Aquitaine for angling pontoons.....

The process of accreditation

With over 5000 accredited sites, it is largely thanks to service providers and managers of organisations/facilities, who have voluntarily undertaken the Tourisme & Handicap accreditation process. It is they who are offering a long-term approach to a high-standard of welcome, not only for clients with a disability but also for all of their clientele (families, older clients...).

A voluntary approach by professionals

Their first step is to contact those regional organisations set up to advise on and award the Label Tourisme & Handicap created by the DIRECCTE (Directions Régionales des Entreprises, de la Concurrence, de la Consommation, du Travail et de l'Emploi) www.direccte.gouv.fr

The stages of accreditation

Application

Any professional person interested in working towards accreditation should complete the self-evaluation questionnaire enabling them to evaluate the level of the facility's accessibility for the various categories of disability (hearing, mental, motor, visual) .

Analysis of facilities

Accreditation implies that the facilities have been checked by assessors representing tourism professionals and disability associations.

Evaluation of an organisation/facility is undertaken by a team of two assessors consisting of someone from the tourism industry and someone from a disability association.

Their evaluation is produced using a detailed grid based on national specifications.

A first appreciation

Following these considerations, the regional Commission will recommend Tourisme & Handicap accreditation for a minimum of two disabilities, taking into account the regulations made up of a common sense and compassionate approach.

Only the National Commission can award the Label Tourisme & Handicap.

It studies those files recommended by the regional Commission and awards the T&H mark by ensuring that all the specifications are validated.

Commitment: signing the charter

A charter of commitment which guarantees the welcome and maintenance of permanent access to the site is signed by the service provider and the Association Tourisme & Handicaps.

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps *

Its mission

Three fundamental principles

Put in place and manage mechanisms, such as the Label Tourisme & Handicap and the Label Destination pour Tous, which facilitate the promotion of the policy for accessibility to holidays and leisure activities..

Maintain the national unity of the Label Tourisme & Handicap and work on the development of criteria.

Heighten the awareness of tourism professionals to the accessibility challenges around holidays and leisure activities for disabled clientele using a range of resources: surveys, studies, training, expert input, exhibitions, discussions, publications.

Created in 2001, the Association Tourisme & Handicaps (Law 1901) was a turning point in the development of awareness concerning access to leisure activities and holidays for people with disabilities.

It is a shared platform linking tourism service providers with representatives of disabled tourists.

The association is made up of representatives from various tourism professions, disability organisations, individual campaigners from industry, seasonal accommodation providers... all of whom share the same aims as the association :

Improve on the welcome offered
Enhance the range of tourism products
Facilitate common considerations
Establish social responsibility

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps is supported in its actions by :

Le Ministère de l'Economie, de l'Industrie et du Numérique (the Ministry of the Economy, Industry and Digital Technology).

Le Ministère de la Culture et de la Communication (the Ministry of Culture and Communication).

Le Secrétariat d'Etat auprès de la Ministre des Affaires Sociales, de la Santé et des Droits des Femmes chargé des personnes Handicapées et de la Lutte contre l'exclusion (the junior minister's office of the Ministry of Social Affairs, Health and Women's Rights responsible for people with disabilities and the fight against social exclusion.)

L'Agence Nationale pour les Chèques Vacances (the national agency for Chèques Vacances).

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps is a member of the Conseil National du Tourisme (National Tourism Council) and member of the OBIAÇU : Observatoire interministériel de l'Accessibilité et de la Conception Universelle (interministerial watchdog for Accessibility and Universal Design)*

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps

Its actions

Four areas of intervention

1/ Development of the national Label Tourisme & Handicap

Leadership and coordination of networks

Constant monitoring is required to maintain the interest, motivation, observance and participation of every link in the same chain : local working parties, correspondents, members, tourism professionals...

In addition to the Boards of Directors and annual general meetings decreed by the association in order to inform members of the various actions undertaken, annual seminars are also organised for members of local working parties and correspondents, providing a platform for essential discussions in working towards the successful achievement of targets for developing the Label Tourisme & Handicap and to respond to the expectations of disabled clientele.

Leadership of the National Commission for awarding the Label Tourisme & Handicap.

Four entities make up the national awards committee for the Tourisme & Handicap brand :

- Disability organisations.
- Tourism and culture authorities.
- Local tourism promotion bodies under the authority of geographical areas.
- The body which has been nominated to administer the mark.

The National Commission issues unanimous decisions on projects that have been presented to them by local members. These decisions are made from a tourism viewpoint, taking into account the interests of people with disabilities.

2/ Training

Within the framework of the new BTS Tourisme 2012 qualification, themes linked to accessibility and to the welcome of people with disabilities at tourist sites/attractions have been included. Awareness campaigns have been introduced to training courses within the hotel and restaurant industry.

Training of assessors, proof of acquired proficiency

With the aim of ensuring consistency in the accreditation process, the training programme, based on the national specifications, is undertaken by every assessor

Assess the organisations/facilities

Transmit information to tourism professionals to assist them in the process

1287 people have been trained as assessors. 712 are currently active.

3/ The Label Destination pour Tous

This mark, launched in 2013 by both the Ministère en charge des personnes handicapées (Ministry for Disabilities) and the Ministère en charge du tourisme (Ministry for Tourism), is awarded for a period of three years.

Working towards universal tourism products

The aim of the Label Destination pour Tous is to endorse those geographical areas which offer a coherent and universal range of tourism products for people with disabilities, including not only accessibility to sites and tourist activities but also accessibility to other elements of everyday life and improvements to travelling around the area in question.

A true regional project

The region presenting its application undertakes to develop three essential aspects :

Tourism services : accommodation, catering, cultural activities and facilities, sporting/leisure activities and facilities, outdoor activities...

Everyday services : neighbourhood shops, health and care services, public services.

Travel/transport : means of travel to, as well as within, the region, accessibility to transport services and facilities, accessibility of highways...

The region commits to offering a varied and high-standard of tourism products, fully accessible to people with disabilities or limited mobility and for the families of people with hearing, mental, motor and visual disabilities.

In order to obtain the Label Destination pour Tous, the region must work on at least two categories of disability.

It is committed to widening its range of tourism products to other disability categories and to offer new tourism services or facilities.

The Label Destination pour Tous provides an effective collaboration at local level of various public and private campaigners focused on one regional tourism project open to all.

Bordeaux, first award-winning city

The first call for proposals was launched in 2013.

4 proposals received on 31 December 2013 : Binic, Bordeaux, Pays du Voironnais and CDT Aude for the Canal du Midi.

The city of Bordeaux was awarded the Label Destination Pour Tous, in June 2014, for two categories of disability, mental and motor.

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps

Communicating expertise

4/ Information and marketing : the challenges

One challenge for tourism facilities

The phase of creating and developing the Label Tourisme & Handicap has focused everyone's energy on reacting to the needs of people with disabilities in relation to accessing holidays and leisure activities.

This was a deliberate, but not always an easy decision by tourism professionals and campaigners to rally together on a voluntary basis, and over a period of several years, to improve the welcome offered to people with disabilities and to respond to their needs in terms of exploring new horizons and experiencing better levels of comfort.

Now lots of them want to increase the amount of accredited products to

- Open up individual products
- Create a network effect
- Improve the transparency of tourism facilities

One "Click" to the whole range of products

The creation of a national reference tool : the Marques Nationales Tourisme & Handicap (Tourism & Handicap National Brands) website in June 2013, which gives a "real time" presentation of all the T&H accredited sites, offering a shop window that is used regularly by tourism professionals and enables clients to make their choice directly online.

www.entreprises.gouv.fr/marques-nationales-tourisme

A challenge for people making enquiries

The internet is the first source of information, facilitating contact with the tourism professional. The Marques Nationales Tourisme & Handicap website is a single entry point that lists all the accredited sites and responds to the need for a direct contact with the tourism professional. It reassures clients, by indicating the categories of disability for which each establishment is accredited and providing confirmation that the facilities available match the description.

This universal tourism provision is a facilitating tool in holiday organisation, a means of communicating on the range of activities and an important factor in promoting the accreditation mark amongst those professionals working towards accreditation.

A challenge for the region

A region which can rely on the image of a recognised standard of welcome will benefit from a positive image relating to the welcome of all types of clientele.

The international perspective

France is the only European country to certify the accessibility of a tourist establishment with a mark.

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps receives appeals from other countries to share expertise and its established strategies for setting up the mark, its development and impact.

The association belongs to OITS, the international organisation for Social Tourism, facilitating meetings on a European, and even worldwide, level and encouraging discussions between bodies that are working on the theme of tourism and disability.

Also a member of ENAT, the European network of Accessible Tourism, it is widening its area of activity, in particular via the PANTOU website, which enables accredited organisations to communicate further afield about their products.

Franco-Quebec cooperation

A partner of the Quebec Association KEROUL, with its shared aims and actions focused on making tourism and culture accessible to people with disabilities.

The Association Tourisme & Handicaps was active in the organisation of the first world Destinations pour Tous summit held in Montréal, Québec, from 19 to 22 October 2014

During the summit, the Association Tourisme & Handicaps proved its expertise by leading two conferences : Setting up the Label Destination pour Tous in France and Training, an essential factor in accessibility within the holiday market.

A challenge for the tourism industry

Longer holidays with friends and family, choosing commercial accommodation

A 2009 study entitled “Adapting tourism products for disabilities”, undertaken by ATOUT France, aimed at tourism professionals wanting to enhance and grow their products, highlighted the elements that reveal the economic opportunities and the expectations of clients with disabilities.

90% of the respondents* said that they go on holiday once a year, more than 80 km from their home.

50% of them have taken two week or longer holidays.

The average weekly budget per person was 300€ and 600€ between 57 % of them and over 600€ for 30% of them.

72% want to be able to enjoy the same travel conditions as able-bodied tourists and above all to have access to reliable information.

The rate of bookings for commercial accommodation is at 64% versus 22% staying with friends and family, which is the direct opposite of the trend in French holidays - 53% favour non-commercial accommodation, a statistic which comes from a 2002 study published by the Direction du Tourisme and which remains pretty much constant since then, as reflected by a 2011 Omnibus Tourisme de GfK-GOT study which revealed that for holidays last between two and three weeks, eight out of 10 French people favour non-commercial holidays.
